MORNING GENERAL SESSION

2021 Jesse Jones Leadership Award Presentation

Eddie Tealer, President, Dallas College Eastfield Campus; Immediate Past Chair, North Texas Community College Consortium Board of Directors

2021 Jesse Jones Leadership Award

Dr. Joe May, Chancellor, Dallas College

Each year, the North Texas Community College Consortium Board of Directors selects an award winner based on contributions made to his or her college and/or the North Texas Community College Consortium in the following areas:

- Outstanding Leadership
- Dedicated Service
- Excellence in Communication, Cooperation, and Collaboration

Chancellor Joe May has led the former Dallas County Community College District, now Dallas College, since February 2014. Along with the Dallas College Foundation, Dr. May led the formation of Dallas County Promise, and in 2020, led the consolidation of the district's seven separate colleges into a singly accredited institution, Dallas College. Under Dr. May's leadership, Dallas College has expanded early college pathways for Dallas County students, including dual-credit, Early College High School, and Pathways to Technology (P-TECH) High School programs. In addition, Dallas College now offers a baccalaureate degree in Early Childhood Education and Teaching to meet the high demand for teachers in Dallas County.

Narrowing the Gender Gap in the Automotive Technology Program and Industry

Jennifer Kite, Learning Lab Manager, Tarrant County College

What can be done to narrow the gender gap in Tarrant County College's Automotive Program and the automotive industry? This session focuses on raising awareness of the gender gap in Tarrant County College's automotive program and the automotive industry and learning how to cultivate ideas on how to encourage more female participation. In the session, we will: • Explore the gender gap in Tarrant County College and the automotive industry as a whole. • Discuss possible solutions to narrow the gap. • Highlight some automotive companies who are working to narrow the gap. This session uses Tarrant County College's Automotive Program as an example, but participants may apply lessons learned to any program working to eliminate participation gaps.

Podcasting for Prevention Education

CANCELLED

Pete Fiannaca, Director of Student Conduct and Prevention Education, Tarrant County College

This presentation will provide an overview of Tarrant County College's commitment to prevention efforts regarding alcohol, drugs, sex, hazing, and harassment education. Specifically, the presentation will explore (1) podcasting as an effective method of information dissemination, and (2) the importance of providing on-demand educational opportunities for students. Outcomes for this session: (1) Participants will be able to explore the importance of prevention education measures in the community college environment. (2) Participants will be able to articulate the benefits of providing on-demand educational opportunities for students.

Collaborate: Bringing Students, Staff, and Technology to Meet Student Needs

William Gunn, Associate Dean, Success Coaching, Dallas College

Learn how Dallas College used digital tools and platforms to allow for an easier student experience and allow staff to focus on meeting student needs in their area, instead of focusing on problem solving complicated technology. We will share lessons learned, system limitations, and steps to ensure robust data collection. Attendees will understand the tools used, why they were selected, and how they work together for a seamless student experience. Attendees will have a better understanding of data limitations of tools to better plan out their own implementations.
