

Create Your Own Active Learning Assignment

---

What's my goal?

What's your time frame?

Who will be completing the assignment? If in a group, how many? How will the group be created?

What are the key components of the instructions? What is essential that they do for the assignment?

 Which course learning objective does this assignment align with?

 Which core objective does this align with? (for Texas undergraduate classes in political science, this is things like communication, critical thinking, social responsibility, and personal responsibility)
